

Business environment and foreign direct investment in Asturias during April 2023

top story

Lufthansa makes its debut in Asturias: April brings the first direct flights to Frankfurt and Munich

The route between Asturias and Frankfurt will operate on Wednesdays, Fridays, and Sundays. There will also be a connection to Munich on Saturdays. With these two new routes, Asturias reaches 27 direct destinations to nine countries and improves its strategic communications.

invest in asturias

Dutch Royal A-ware acquires Asturian dairy plant from Danone

This family multinational plans to invest in the factory to make it more sustainable and future-proof. In Salas, Royal A-ware will start producing mozzarella from cow's milk for retail and food service customers worldwide, starting in 2024.

University of Oviedo to host the European Centre for Entrepreneurship and Innovation of Mexican Tecnológico de Monterrey

The agreement will bring more talent to Asturias, generating more entrepreneurship, more technology transfer and more innovative companies and employment.

ports

The Port of Avilés receives the largest ship in its history

The semi-submersible heavy lift ship GPO GRACE broke the beam record of this port, 48 metres. It loaded transition parts for the wind turbines that Windar Renovables manufactures for the Vineyard Wind 1 project in Massachusetts, USA. This technical achievement is a bet on the future for the companies in the area.

energy

Tresca Ingeniería comes to Asturias to help companies in the energy transition process

Highly specialized in the energy and industrial sector and in new development vectors such as green hydrogen, this engineering company will generate 25 jobs in our region.

companies

Technology | Metrohm DropSens: from university laboratory to the global technology market. The Asturian firm, founded in 2006, consolidates its growth with a new building in the Asturias Technology Park. Swiss foundation Metrohm owns 90% of the capital of this company.

Engineering | Shareholders of Duro Felguera support the entry of Grupo Prodi and Mota-Engil México. Asturian engineering company starts an expansion with two leading industrial partners which is expected to provide solvency, strengthen confidence and generate important business synergies.

Financing | National Securities Market Commission approves venture capital fund LUAFund. It aims to raise €50 million to invest in SMEs with high-growth potential linked to Asturias in the technology, communications and electronics, biotechnology, food, health, energy, and circular economy industries.

Food and drinks in Asturias

Tradition and innovation. Two concepts that go hand in hand in a sector with great growth potential. The agri-food industry is of paramount importance in the industrial activity of Asturias. Check our web for more information.

invest in asturias

+ 34 985 980 020

investinasturias@idepa.es

